Bryan Mayer to perform at Cherry Point Air Show

MARINE CORPS AIR STATION CHERRY POINT, N.C. (April 4, 2014) – A concert is scheduled to be held during the 2014 MCAS Cherry Point "Inspiration to Innovation" Air Show Saturday, May 17, from 4:30-5:30 p.m.

Bryan “Stretch” Mayer, a North Carolina native, is a country music singer and songwriter widely known for his hit single “This is me,” which ranked on the Mediabase Country charts in June 2013.

Mayer and his band will play original music, as well as classic rock and country music cover songs inside the Marine Transport Squadron 1 hangar. There will be two large sets of bleachers available for first-come, first-served seating. There will also be standing room and a bring your own chair area.

Mayer will be available to sign autographs prior to the start of the show and will also have merchandise for purchase.

Mayer’s talent landed him the opportunities to open at concerts for national Country headliners like Trace Adkins, Joe Nichols, Craig Morgan, Eli Young Band, The Band Perry, Thompson Square, and dozens more including Southern Rock Gods and Lynyrd Skynyrd.

Mayer is currently being nominated by his fans for the 2014 Carolina Music Awards for Best Male Country Artist and Music Video of the Year.

Admission and parking for the air show and concert are free.

The air station is expecting over 150,000 visitors this year, so come early to avoid traffic. Parking space will be limited; carpooling is recommended.
